Passman & Jones

John Browning has earned a reputation as a “go to” civil litigator with considerable trial, appellate, arbitration, and summary judgment experience in state and federal courts throughout Texas in his 27 years of practicing law. This vast experience covers a broad range of areas, encompassing wrongful death; product liability; commercial litigation; all types of intellectual property disputes; employment matters; defamation; consumer protection/DTPA cases; professional liability; health care; class action litigation; and cyberliability.

John is a partner at Passman & Jones in Dallas. Prior to that, he was a partner in the Dallas offices of two large national firms, a partner at a large Texas-based firm, and a partner at a mid-sized Dallas firm. He began his career at a mid-sized Dallas firm and after making partner at his next firm, he started and operated his own small firm for nearly 10 years before moving his practice to a large national law firm.
